

Product mailing services for testing and evaluation situations.

Product Mailing Services

Readex is a survey research company that began deploying surveys by mail in 1947. We have been doing mail surveys ever since and know exactly what it is like to prepare envelopes and packages for mailing. We understand both survey research and the sending of materials related to a research project. We can provide:

- Inventory space for your item before shipping needs to happen.
- Options for sending materials to optimize delivery needs with costs.
- Procurement of packaging materials, e.g. boxes and envelopes.
- Sending your item at your desired schedule.
- Inclusion of any other printed materials such as letters, instruction sheets or return envelopes.
- Receiving returned goods or printed surveys.

Please contact the Readex Sales team for more information about Product Mailing services: readexsales@readexresearch.com.